COUNCILS ASK COMMISSION TO AID IN PROJECT

Investigation To Determine Best Traffic Routes Over Right-of-Way
The Los Angeles City Council has approved a recommendation of the Los Angeles Planning commission that Glendale be asked to join in a request to the State Railroad commission for a survey of the Southern Pacific right-of-way between the two cities, with a view to determining the best means of carrying the flow of traffic between Los Angeles and Glendale across the railroad tracks.

This is the outgrowth of a report submitted to the Glendale City Council February 25 by the Glendale Planning commission, wherein certain recommendations were made as to grade and separated grade crossings, states T. V. Watson, chairman of the local planning body. A copy of this report was forwarded to G. ## Rainfall Sums One Inch In Past 24 Hours

Dashing showers that visited Glendale and Southern California generally last night and early this morning, added just one inch to the season's rainfall, bringing the year's total precipitation to 5.34 inches, as compared with 4.14 inches for a year ago. These figures were given out by Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, 333 West Broadway, who compiles weather statistics for The Glendale Evening News.

Rain commenced to fall late yesterday afternoon. Traffic in several instances was tied up. Hundreds of persons coming home from work were either forced to wade the swift moving currents or await a subsiding of the rainfall when the streets cleared.

Instinctive good was done by the rain and predictions were that still further precipitation could be expected. The figures issued by Mrs. Bartlett showing one inch of rain, for the storm included showers up until noon today.

Mrs. Bartlett states that the inch of rain is the greatest total for any one storm this season.

THE AUTOMOBILE SHOW

EDITORIAL
Tonight the doors of the mammoth tent at Brand boulevard and Magnolia avenue will be thrown open to the public, and the enterprise of the Glendale Motor Car Dealers' association will have been given public expression in Glendale's first automobile show.

It would have been so much easier and less expensive for the forty or more motor and accessory dealers who are promoting the show not to have ventured. But it is undertakings and events of this kind that define the difference between live business men and dead ones, between a growing, progressive community and one that is stagnant or backward.

The sight that will meet the gaze of the crowd that pours into the tent tonight will be a marvelous one—$200,000 worth of new automobiles under one roof—and the tent will be aglow with light reflected from the shining bodies of the exhibits. This is the age of the motor vehicle, and all the utility, the beauty, the luxury and the aristocracy of motordom will be on display, while the members of the Glendale Motor Car Dealers' association will be hosts to the people of Glendale and the south.

To one who is attracted by the perfection of mechanism or the beauty of line and luxuriousness of appointment of the latest motor cars, although he cannot buy; to one who has symptoms of a severe fever to own an automobile, as well as to the one who is openly in the market, this show will be a veritable paradise. All can look—and look—and look—and compare to their hearts' content. All Glendale will be at the show. Some of us will find there our hearts' dearest desire and will buy; many of us will violate the commandment, "Thou shalt not covet," and all of us will wonder and admire.

This first automobile exhibit in Glendale is strictly a Glendale show. No space has been left to outside people, for the reason that Glendale's more than forty dealers quickly took it all themselves, realizing the benefits that would accrue to Glendale and to the automobile business as the result of such an undertaking.

And if the mere holding of this exhibit attests to the enterprise of the auto dealers of Glendale, does not this fact speak still more loudly of the quality of these business men? The very latest models of all the leading makes of motor cars and the last word in accessories will be exhibited.

NAVAL FLEET NOW IN BATTLE ARRAY

Defense And Offensive Ships Off Lower California Coast In 'Warfare'

WITH THE FLEET OFF THE LOWER CALIFORNIA COAST, March 7.—The United States navy's most powerful units continued their mimic war today.

The "black fleet," made up of nine dreadnaughts, twenty-nine destroyers, the light cruiser Omaha, the aircraft carrier Langley, and a large train of repair ships and auxiliaries, was approaching the coast, with the possible objectives of bombarding sea coast towns, seizure of the enemy base or attacking the forces of the "enemy" or "blue fleet."

The "blue fleet," composed of eight modern cruisers, twenty-four destroyers, twelve submarines, the battleship Wyoming, fast mine layers, oilers and a store ship, was at the same time speeding up the coast to locate and attack the hostile "black fleet."

'Blue' Forces
The "blue" forces are supported by theoretical forces equal to the "black fleet," but they are far astern of the "blue fleet" cruisers and destroyers.

The submarines of the "blue" forces are the greatest menace to the "black" ships, which have had their speed cut down greatly, owing to the necessity of protecting their train of repair ships and auxiliaries.

Both fleets are cruising in protected formation and awaiting contact. Gun crews are exercising all machinery, which is tuned up and ready to answer any call made on it.

DUMBARTON, Scotland, March 7.—Calling the Prince of Wales a "nincompoop," David Kirkwood, suspended member of the House of Commons, again attacked the amount of money spent by the prince on his world tours, in an address to his constituents here today.

"The money that the working class produces ought not to be wasted on a nincompoop like the Prince of Wales," Kirkwood shouted. "This young fellow ought to do some work instead of spending his time attending race meetings and dance halls."

SENATE FIGHT ON WARREN OPENED

Open Session Rule Is Set Aside As Solons Battle On Appointment

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
For International News Service.
WASHINGTON, March 7.—The fight over the nomination of Charles Beecher Warren of Michigan as attorney-general of the United States opened in the Senate this afternoon. By a vote of 46 to 39 the Senate voted to consider the nomination in open session although this move was opposed by administration leaders.

Senator Moses, Republican of New Hampshire, who was presiding, ruled that a two-thirds vote would be required to order an open session, but the Senate set this ruling aside by a vote of 39 to 38.

Twelve Republicans, including three of the ousted insurgents, and Senator Shipstead, farmer-laborer of Minnesota, joined with the Democrats in voting for an open session. The insurgents were Ladd and Frazier, North Dakota, and Brookhart of Iowa. The other Republicans were Senators Borah of Idaho; Capper of Kansas; Couzens of Michigan; Howell of Nebraska; Johnson of California; McLean of Connecticut; McMaster of South Dakota; McNary of Oregon; and Norris of Nebraska.

One Democrat—Senator Overman of North Carolina—voted with the administration. He did so because he had previously voted a favorable report on Warren's nomination from the judiciary committee.

On the vote, which overturned Senator Moses' ruling, the same three insurgents, Shipstead and seven other Republicans, voted against Daws. They were Senators Borah, Capper, Couzens, Howell, Johnson, McNary and Norris.

A half hour recess was taken to give senators time for "lunch" and at 2 o'clock, the fight over Warren's nomination was launched. Senator Thomas J. Walsh, Democrat of Montana, famous oil prospector, opened the fight on Warren on the basis of his alleged connection with the "sugar trust." He declared the Senate jointly shared with the president the responsibility of cabinet appointments.

"Under ordinary circumstances, I subscribe to the doctrine that the president's nominations to the cabinet should be confirmed without delay," said Walsh. Walsh first based his opposition on Warren's lack of reputation "as a lawyer."

"Mr. Warren has no reputation whatever as a lawyer," said Walsh. "I not only oppose his appointment as attorney-general because he has no legal experience, but because for four years he was attorney for the sugar trust in his state, a trust which was most offensive to the interests of the American people."

Honks Along Gasoline Row

One of the most unique exhibits has been arranged by the Shell Co. of California. L. E. Richardson today was putting it in shape for the opening this afternoon. Mounted on a massive pedestal, with a foundation composed of scores of tubes of oils and gasoline, is a miniature, fully equipped and lighted standard service station. Two miniature cars are being served with gas and air. The displays in the window of the station, the electric bulbs, the big electric-lighted signboards, the air and water hose, the gas pumps and every other detail are an exact reproduction of the big stations. Lights are arranged back of the oil tubes in the base that give a highly pleasing effect. Grouped around the exhibit are big cans of Shell Motor and Golden Shell oils. According to Richardson, the exhibit is intended to depict the cleanliness in vogue at all Shell stations.

The Motor Car Dealers' association has rented a small building directly across South Brand boulevard from the big show tent at South Brand boulevard and Magnolia street that will be ready tonight as a rest room for men and women. The place has been fitted up with comforts of all kinds for auto show visitors.

W. H. Daniel of the Dixie Motor Co., distributors of Packard cars, has a fifty-foot space in the center of the big tent, where he will exhibit three machines, an eight-cylinder, seven-passenger touring car, done in steel grey; a five-passenger, eight-cylinder sport coupe, and a seven-cylinder, six-cylinder sedan. Besides his exhibit at the show, Daniel said that he will have his regular salesrooms, near the tent, open for show visitors.

The Standard Oil Co. has an interesting exhibit on the right, just inside the main entrance. Besides a miniature group of service stations, refineries, oil tanks and oil wells, six unique models of interesting historical incidents and places have been arranged across the back of the exhibit space. One shows a Buick automobile going over Tioga pass in the Sierras, the first over in the 1924 season. Another is a small model of a Pierce-Arrow stage in the looming shadows of El Capitan, in Yosemite. The stage is one operated by the Horseshoe route between Merced and Yosemite valley. Still another is a small reproduction of the River Rouge plant, where the process of Ford car manufacture is started. Ezra

Mayor Robinson To Dedicate Affair With Address, Clark To Respond

BULLETIN
At 2 o'clock this afternoon officials of the Glendale auto show announced the big event would open promptly at 7 o'clock tonight, rain or shine. The show is housed in a big tent, especially waterproofed, the officials said.

Inaugurating officially the 1925 automobile season in Glendale, the first annual automobile show will be under way tonight at 8 o'clock. It will be dedicated with an address by Mayor Spencer Robinson and a response by Lyman P. Clark, president of the Glendale Motor Car Dealers' association, under whose auspices the big show has been arranged.

More than 5000 visitors are expected tonight and elaborate plans have been made to give them stellar attractions in the way of entertainment. On a big stage erected at the lower end of the 100x310 foot tent at South Brand boulevard and Magnolia avenue an orchestra under the direction of Roy Biddlecom and ten acts of vaudeville directed by Willis West and Hazel Boyd will take over the entertainment program at 9 o'clock. New vaudeville acts will be arranged for each of the eight nights the show will continue.

This afternoon the new automobiles are all in place. Attendees are there to explain their various features to show visitors. Spic and span, the new models form the finest aggregation of automobiles ever seen before in Glendale. In value, they are worth more than $200,000.

Accessory dealers have arranged some of the most interesting and unique exhibits under the big top. Gasoline companies have displays that have attracted wide attention at automobile shows in other Pacific coast cities. Every thing has been done to make the first Glendale automobile show the best and biggest thing of its kind ever staged in Southern California.

The show is not only a place for dealers to display their wares and hold forth upon the merits of their respective automobiles. ## SUNLAND HOME OF AGED IS ALTERED

Former Monte Vista Lodge Property Remodeled For Dependents

Remodeling of the Home for the Aged, operated by the Volunteers of America at Sunland, has been completed, and it is now pointed out as one of the show spots of the community. The property, formerly the Monte Vista lodge and built several years ago as an outdoor camp, now is the home for many old people who otherwise might have no means of support. It has been in operation for a year.

During the course of remodeling the old roof was removed and a modern, fireproof covering was built in terra cotta. The roof of the porch has been converted into an open gallery extending entirely around the house in a promenade. The double windows have been replaced by French windows opening onto the porch, and the whole structure has been stuccoed in a soft gray.

Main Building
The main building, besides having rooms for members has a parlor on the ground floor and a library on the second floor. A portion of the veranda has been converted into a sun parlor. The institution is equipped with a modern steam heating plant. The grounds are now being landscaped.

The home is near the famous Monte Vista park with its magnificent oaks. Colonel William Hughes, commandant of the Volunteers of America in California has been the guiding spirit in the founding of the home. Mrs. B. C. Ekey is matron. Visitors are welcome, members have announced.

COMMENT by GIL A. COWAN

Former Senator William A. Clark of Montana has passed over the Great Divide. Funeral services held in New York Thursday brought the final end for one of the pioneer builders of the West, a copper king, and financier, politician and philanthropist.

It was nine years ago atop a slag pile in his copper camp at Jerome, Ariz., the writer last saw and interviewed Senator Clark and what a remarkable man!

At that time he outlined plans for the completion of his scheme to make Clarkdale, Ariz., a small smelter city in the Verde valley below Jerome, the most ideal community. He believed in good schools, model homes, athletics and all that would make life livable. He had his own ideas about relations between labor and capital which had a wonderful effect on conditions in the camps where he operated.

To review the complete life of Senator Clark would take a volume, which should be compiled as a treasure book for his friends. Yes, more than his friends are those boys who grew up under his leadership and today are men of affairs in the world. They will long cherish the memory of one man of great wealth who made his money work for the betterment of others.

One cannot help but comment on a certain phase of the legislative investigation of the Chinese herb bill at the state capitol. It was admitted by the author that one of his purposes in introducing the measure was to get publicity which he got.

At the same time, those enmeshed in the tangled skein of oriental intrigue complained about newspaper publicity of the whole affair. Even the administration leaders thought the stories gave a black eye to public life. But let it be said that good is going to result.

The high cost of lobbying has been the bane of corporation expense accounts. Private interests have been forced to pay out large sums to scotch so called cinch bills. People seeking necessary or beneficial legislation have been forced to entertain on a lavish scale and maintain high-priced members of the "third house."

Lawyer members of the Legislature have been retained, in past years, to assist in the preparation of bills and guide them through the Assembly and Senate. "Buy" a reporter covering the legislature this session, although many of them are working sixteen to eighteen hours a day for insignificant salaries.

And there is coming a day when no one will "buy" a legislative vote. In fact, this session there isn't a dime of graft known to exist. If there is, Senator Swain wants to find out where it exists.

BURBANK NEWS

BURBANK, March 7.—Wyo-ming street has been paved a uniform width of thirty-six feet and is now open to the public from Burbank boulevard to Hollywood way, a distance of one and one-half miles, it is announced by R. R. Scott, street superintendent. Sidewalks are in and the street is ready to carry automobile traffic.

Substantial reductions in express charges are announced from the local office of the American Express Co. An idea as to the effect that the new rate will have on Burbank savings, is gained from the fact that the rate on ten pounds which was $1.22 to Denver, is now 94 cents; twenty-five pounds to the same destination which was $2.55 now $1.84; fifty pounds, former rate $4.74, new rate $3.32; 100 pounds, former rate $9.15, now $6.30.

Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Nickerson of Verdugo avenue and Mr. and Mrs. William Nickerson of Santa Anita avenue visited recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Nickerson of Monrovia.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Love of 405 Verdugo avenue entertained as guests Wednesday night Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lee of Palms and William Copeland of Burbank.

Mrs. Hattie Arnold of Mount Pleasant, Iowa, has left for her home in the east, after visiting here for a week with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fenn of 818 East Tenth street. Mrs. Arnold and her hosts were neighbors in the east.

DENVER, March 7.—The coroner's jury rendered a verdict that Hazel Blazer, 32, came to her death last week from mercury poisoning, administered by her father, Dr. H. E. Blazer, 65, who is being held on murder charges. It was first believed the girl had been asphyxiated by chloroform.

petty grafters, and at the same time certifying the honest representatives of labor, agriculture, commerce and business.

Incidentally, it has been the newspapers which have brought about this change in heart. You cannot "buy" a reporter covering the legislature this session, although many of them are working sixteen to eighteen hours a day for insignificant salaries.

And there is coming a day when no one will "buy" a legislative vote. In fact, this session there isn't a dime of graft known to exist. If there is, Senator Swain wants to find out where it exists.

TREATY SPOT FOUND

LANKERSHIM, March 7.—The exact spot on which General Fremont stood when he signed the famous treaty of Cahuenga, at what is now Universal City, is said to have been discovered a few days ago by Ed Steele. Steele says he had understood that the city museum and park on Cahuenga avenue was the sacred ground, but he thinks this is a mistake. Steele's property adjoins the park. Recently while excavating to make improvements, he uncovered an old tile flooring such as was employed in the early days by residents in making their homes. Steele asserts this flooring was that of the house in which General Fremont signed the treaty.

WARMOTHERS' BENEFIT IS STAGED

Wet Weather Kept Many Away Including Movie Stars Scheduled

Inclement weather kept many persons away from the benefit show given last night by the Lester Meyer chapter, American War Mothers, at the Broadway High school auditorium. Many of the prominent movie stars billed to appear failed to show up, and the program was curtailed.

The Glendale High school orchestra, under the direction of I. G. Ulmer, presented the overture. The Glendale Elks' band, directed by J. J. Burke, gave the following numbers: "Zacatecas" (Cordina); "Atlantis" (Safranek), a suite in four parts; "Flirtation" (Steck); and "Washington Greys" (Graffula).

Rin-Tin-Tin, the wonder dog of the movies, was presented on the stage, and did several tricks. Jess Willard, former heavyweight champion, was presented, made a couple of bows and retired.

A. Martini, appearing through the courtesy of William A. Howe, manager of the Glendale theatre, proved to be the feature act of the program. Martini, a contortionist with a super-human ability to tie himself up in knots, double up and then slip through what was known in other days as a "keg," presented an act the equal of which has never been seen in Glendale.

Hawaiian Baritone
Keumoku Louis, Glendale's Hawaiian baritone, delighted the audience with two selections. He was followed by Mrs. R. W. Cleghorn and Miss Besse Long, pupils of the Emerson School of Self-Expression, who presented a sketch "Fast Friends."

William Desmond, motion picture star, appeared under a handicap, with his left arm in a sling. He explained that a week ago he was thrown from his horse and suffered a dislocated shoulder and several torn ligaments. For that reason he was unable to present his "Timber Wolf" sketch, as billed. He told several stories, introduced Albert J. Smith, who plays with him, and the two presented a humorous sketch.

Kelly Pupils
Viola Yorba, Glendale girl now appearing in pictures, sang two songs of Old Spain, with Miss Clara Wolter at the piano. Seven pupils of the Pearl Keller School of Dancing presented a Butterfly Ballet. The dancers were: Cecilia Mae Fischer, Elizabeth Turner, Beatrice Turner, Ina Claire Fletcher, Elaine Harrison, Marie Louise Brown and Eleanor Marek. The Carlson Sisters, famed for their entertaining programs over radio, patterned their way into the hearts of their audience with old-fashioned songs, followed by the latest ditties with ukulele tunes. Eleanor Marek, a pupil of the Keller, won plaudits with a clever clog dance, and the Hunt Sisters, pupils of Pearl Keller, closed the show with a patriotic dance.

Candidate

A. J. VAN WIE, city clerk, who is candidate for re-election at the municipal election April 14.

A. J. Van Wie, city clerk, seeks reelection April 14 on the grounds that he has conducted the affairs of his office efficiently during the past four years.

"During my term of office I have installed a complete filing system that has amply and efficiently taken care of the enormous volume of business we have had to handle, due to the growth of Glendale, which has more than doubled in population in the past four years.

"At all times the records of my office have been open for inspection and every seeker of information has been shown due courtesy, all questions being answered in so far as it was possible to do so.

Here Twelve Years
"I have been a resident of Glendale and Tropico for the past twelve years, and have at all times been interested and active in civic affairs. I have seen Glendale emerge from a struggling little community to its present position as 'the fastest growing city in America,' with a present population of 60,000 and every prospect of going to 100,000 or over by 1930.

"I am proud and happy to be a citizen of such a city and feel it an honor to hold the office of city clerk here. If reelected I shall maintain the same standard of efficiency as heretofore. My record is in the hands of my friends, well wishers and the voters of Glendale."

Mr. Van Wie is a member of Masonic and Elks lodges, Chamber of Commerce and Lions club. The filing system he has developed has been widely praised and he was accorded the honor of being asked to address the League of California Municipalities, at their twenty-sixth annual convention, held at Monterey, October 6 to 10, 1924.

NIGHT PROWLERS LURED BY SHOWER

Four Glendale Places Made Object of Burglars During Night

Seeking to hide their operations under cover of rain, burglars roved the city last night, visiting four places, then slipped up to La Crescenta and entered the drug store on the corner of Los Angeles and Montrose avenues. The county sheriff's office was notified and sent out a shotgun squad, but failed to find the thieves.

In Glendale, the places entered were the home of Howard Davis, 1340 Kent place; the home of H. P. Andrews, 627 Fisher street; and the store formerly occupied by the Glendale Feed & Fuel Co., 125 South Glendale avenue. Nothing was taken from the latter place. Minor articles of jewelry were obtained at the two houses.

Thieves last night also visited the yard of the Sunset Auto Wrecking Co. at 1510 South San Fernando road, but were frightened away before they could take anything. P. H. Olmsted of 532 Eighth street reports theft of his car yesterday in Los Angeles, license number 741-321.

Mr. Balakshin is residing now in China, while his daughter is studying agriculture in the Washington State Agricultural college.

PRESENTS FIGURES ON SEWER BIDS IN HANDS OF COUNCIL

Frederic A. Clarke Points Out Way City May Save Some Money In Award Of Contract For Improvement

Frederic A. Clarke, 351 Oak street, today requested The Glendale Evening News to give publicity to the following communication relative to the bids received on the Glendale city sewer system. Mr. Clarke informed this newspaper that the figures quoted by him are absolutely correct. The letter:

Editor The Evening News: The following figures were handed me as being a tabulation of the sewer bids for the Glendale city sewer mains:

LOW VITRIFIED
Section 4, John Artukovich, Los Angeles.....	$ 17,288.00
Section 5, Culjak & Bebek, Los Angeles.....	26,027.89
Section 6, J. G. Donovan, Los Angeles.....	5,365.00
Section 7, J. G. Donovan, Los Angeles.....	15,275.00
Section 8, Culjak & Bebek, Los Angeles.....	45,407.95
Section 9, J. G. Donovan, Los Angeles.....	11,500.00
Section 10, J. G. Donovan, Los Angeles.....	27,350.00
Section 11, Culjak & Bebek, Los Angeles.....	30,002.86
Section 12, J. G. Donovan, Los Angeles.....	8,790.00
Total low vitrified.....	$187,006.70

LOW CONCRETE
Section 4, John Artukovich, Los Angeles.....	$ 17,288.15
Section 5, Culjak & Bebek, Los Angeles.....	26,027.89
Section 6, J. G. Donovan, Los Angeles.....	5,115.00
Section 7, J. G. Donovan, Los Angeles.....	14,325.00
Section 8, Culjak & Bebek, Los Angeles.....	45,407.95
Section 9, J. G. Donovan, Los Angeles.....	10,950.00
Section 10, J. G. Donovan, Los Angeles.....	25,800.00
Section 11, Culjak & Bebek, Los Angeles.....	30,002.85
Section 12, J. G. Donovan, Los Angeles.....	8,450.00
Total low concrete.....	$183,366.85

LOW COMBINATION
Section 4, John Artukovich, vitrified.....	$ 17,288.00
Section 5, Culjak & Bebek, vitrified or concrete.....	26,027.89
Section 6, J. G. Donovan, concrete.....	5,115.00
Section 7, J. G. Donovan, concrete.....	14,325.00
Section 8, Culjak & Bebek, vitrified or concrete.....	45,407.95
Section 9, J. G. Donovan, concrete.....	10,950.00
Section 10, J. G. Donovan, concrete.....	25,800.00
Section 11, Culjak & Bebek, concrete and vitrified.....	30,002.85
Section 12, J. G. Donovan, concrete.....	8,450.00
Total low combination.....	$183,366.70

In discussing these figures with several members of the Citizens' Advisory committee I learned that they were under the impression that there was only a differential of $300 in the cost of the pipe, but a study of the bids discloses that there is a difference of $3640 between the low vitrified bids and the low combination bids using both concrete and vitrified pipe.

Would Meet Bills
Several members of the committee and the City Council seem to feel that due to a local sentiment and because there is ONLY a difference of $3640 in the bids that vitrified pipe should be given the preference. Three thousand six hundred and forty dollars will pay for six months of our city manager for his salary of $72,000 per year. The interest on $52,000 of 7 per cent interest-bearing bonds, it will more than pay for the truck that the city is advertising for bids on—in fact, it will do a great many things.

In a personal investigation of the relative merits of concrete and vitrified pipe during the last few months I have never run across any real opposition to the use of concrete pipe for sewer work. Hydrostatic tests for percolation, the determining factor for any kind of sewer pipe, show the concrete pipe to be far superior. No one has ever been able to prove that certain acids and sewer gases are injurious to concrete pipe. I also learned that in the city of Los Angeles 75 per cent of the sewer pipe laid in that city was concrete.

If any real opposition existed in the minds of our consulting engineers, why were bids asked for the work using concrete pipe?

City Engineer's View
In a conversation with our city engineer, Mr. Johannsen, he stated to me that as far as he was concerned he was in favor of accepting the bids on their face value, irrespective of the kind of pipe to be used. This would mean that the low bids using the vitrified pipe would receive $118,726.70 of the work, as against $64,640 for the low bids using the concrete pipe.

Economy is in the air, it was preached to millions last Thursday by our new president. Let our City Council save this $3640 and reduce the high cost of owning property. We must not overlook the fact that the concrete pipe people were invited to bid on this work under rigid specifications and as a result of their competition we received bids on this all-important work that were far below the estimates of our consulting engineers.

Yours very truly,
FREDERIC A. CLARKE,
351 Oak street.

REVIVAL WILL BE CLOSED TOMORROW

John Brown To Preach Final Sermon In Glendale On 'The Last Call'

BROWN PROGRAM
Saturday night, at 7:30 o'clock, "How to Live a Christian Life."
Sunday morning, at 11 o'clock, "Upon This Book."
Sunday afternoon, "Sampson and the Lady Barber," (men only).
Sunday night, at 7:30 o'clock, "The Last Call."

Answering the question propounded in his topic, "What Is Repentance," Evangelist John E. Brown told a large audience that gathered at the Union tabernacle last night despite the pouring rain, that all the mystery that has been built around the Biblical injunction to repent was put there by men and that the plan of salvation, made by God is so simple that men and women puzzle over its simplicity.

Mr. Brown read Acts 17:22-30 as a scripture lesson, using a portion of the thirteenth verse as his text, "But now commandeth all men everywhere to repent."

He began with a recital of John the Baptist preaching in the wilderness and crying, "Repent, repent," saying that everywhere multitudes flocked out to hear him.

"Jesus sent out the twelve and then the seventy to preach repentance. St. Paul, on Mars Hill, preached repentance to those who considered themselves the select. All of us must some day stand at the judgment bar, and to be saved all of us must repent."

"Multitudes are stumbling over the simplicity of God's plan for the redemption of the race. What ever mystery surrounds the plan was put there by man. Too many of us are trying to get over on God's side and do God's work. The human side of the plan is repentance. I'm not concerned about how God does it. He does it. Nobody who ever met God's conditions ever went away unsatisfied," the evangelist said.

"Sorrow," the speaker continued, "is not repentance. 'You can cry your eyes out and not repent. You can be sorry and not repent.' He related the story of an Arkansas horse thief, while in jail repenting, but two weeks later he escaped, stole a horse, skipped out to Oklahoma and that was the last heard of him. The thief was sorry, Mr. Brown said, but he did not repent, and he added, 'You can cry every day of your life and go straight to hell.'"

Tomorrow John Brown concludes his month's stay in Glendale. Large crowds are expected at the tabernacle to hear the closing sermons of the evangelist.

Members of the Grand View Community church were present in a body last night to attend the service. Members of the Grand View Girl Reserves were present this afternoon with Glendale Girl Reserves to sing at the service.

John Brown is doing his bit for California. Evangelist Brown publishes several magazines in connection with his school and university projects at Silem Springs, Ark. In the current issue of one of these magazines appears an article on California written by Mr. Brown. The body of the article is devoted to refuting unjust propaganda stories on Southern California that have recently flooded the eastern newspapers. John Brown tells his readers that there is no disease epidemics here that they need fear and that stories of terrible drought are false.

"The lawns are green and everywhere is prosperous and happy in this land of eternal sunshine," he writes.

Verdugo Woodlands Bond Issue Comes Up

Nearly three years ago the Verdugo Woodlands section voted $50,000 bonds to assure gas. The bonds were sold and the money is in the city treasury. Subsequent events impelled the gas company to put the gas in at its own expense. The property owners, have nevertheless, been paying each year taxes to cover this bond issue.

It is now proposed to take steps to retire this bond issue and procure a refund in part of the taxes already paid. To that end a meeting of property owners will be held at the Community building in Sparr Heights on Tuesday night, March 10 at 7:30 o'clock. All property owners are requested to be present, as it is desired to have full discussion of the subject. H. A. Graves, president of the Verdugo Woodlands Improvement association, announces.

Register NOW!

The Glendale Evening News urges that voters register NOW for the municipal election. Do not postpone registering, for that will mean that the deputies will be swamped at the closing hours and will be required to remain on duty half the night. Register NOW, while the deputies are not crowded with work. Deputies are on duty at The Glendale Evening News from 8 a. m. until 9 p. m.

Candidate

JAMES M. RHOADES, who has filed his nomination petitions for city councilman.

James M. Rhoades, the first man to receive endorsement of fifty or more citizens of Glendale through the councilmanic nominations conducted in The Glendale Evening News, today filed his nomination petition as a councilman aspirant. The petition contained the required number of names and was duly received and filed by the city clerk. Mr. Rhoades' name will thus appear on the ballot as a candidate at the municipal election April 14.

Few men in Glendale have had a more notable career in public service than Mr. Rhoades. He came to Glendale five years ago upon his election to the secretaryship of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce. In this capacity he served with distinction for a period of three years, relinquishing the office to engage in the real estate and insurance business here.

As far back as 1894, Mr. Rhoades, then at Glendale, Mont., was appointed assessor of Dawson county. Later he was made receiver for the United States land office by President McKinley. To this office he was reappointed by President Roosevelt in 1901.

Held Public Office
In the years that ensued, Mr. Rhoades was employed as right-of-ways and land agent for the Northern Pacific railroad at Missoula, Mont., until his election as mayor of that city in 1912. He served as mayor until 1914, when he became secretary-manager of the Bozeman, Mont., Chamber of Commerce.

In 1916 Mr. Rhoades commenced a two-year term as sergeant-at-arms in the state legislature of Montana. Mr. Rhoades is a member of the Glendale Realty board, Masonic lodge, and a Shriner. Odd fellow, Elk and Rotarian. For four years he was exalted ruler of the Missoula Elks lodge. Under his administration there a new $155,000 clubhouse was built. He was later deputy district grand exalted ruler of the lodge in Montana. Mr. Rhoades also served as grand master of Montana Odd Fellows for a term.

Mr. Rhoades now is engaged in the real estate and insurance business at 106 East Wilson avenue. He resides with his wife at 329 East Chestnut street.

Long Beach Paper Is Settled In New Home

The Glendale Evening News has received artistic announcement of the opening today of the new home of the Press-Telegram, Pine avenue at Sixth street, Long Beach. A greeting from the Press-Telegram Publishing Co. reads: "Dedicated to the progress of Long Beach and the welfare of its people, the Press-Telegram building paper field. John Brown tells his readers that there is no disease epidemics here that they need fear and that stories of terrible drought are false."

"The lawns are green and everywhere is prosperous and happy in this land of eternal sunshine," he writes.

LOSS ESTIMATED BY OFFICIAL AT $10,000

Spectacular Fire Imperils Men Working Near Large Ammonia Tank; Start Task of Rebuilding at Once

For nearly three hours last night twenty firemen battled in the rain with a spectacular fire that swept through three sections of the Crystal Ice Co. plant at 1126 East Wilson avenue, threatening not only to destroy the plant but to wipe out the entire surrounding residential section. Ammonia fumes greatly handicapped the firemen, declares Chief A. H. Lankford of the Glendale fire department, who led his men in the fight. The alarm sounded at 10:15 o'clock.

Had the two large ammonia tanks in the rear of the plant exploded, it is believed there would have been a disaster. Fear of this possibility added to the tension. It was one of the worst fires in the history of the city and caused a loss estimated by William Baker, secretary-treasurer of the company, as in excess of $10,000. The plant was covered by $62,000 worth of insurance, Mr. Baker stated this morning.

HEAVY SNOW FALL AT FRAZIER PARK

Eight Inches Recorded There A. L. Baird, Subdivider, Reported Today

News of an eight-inch snow late yesterday and last night at Lebeck lodge on the Ridge route, reached A. L. Baird by long distance telephone this morning. The storm is said to be the heaviest in years despite the fact that the thermometer was several degrees above zero.

The storm covered a large mountainous area, Mr. Baird said, and Frazier Mountain park, a mountain resort three miles from Lebeck, was also covered with snow. While traffic has been slowed up the roads are still passable and no serious damage has resulted.

Own Your Own Home Session At Pasadena

Plans are going ahead for the all-day session of the Own Your Home Division of the California Real Estate association to be held at the Hotel Maryland in Pasadena on Saturday, March 21. The program is now being worked out by Chairman Clifton J. Platt, who proposes to have more than fifty boards represented and participating in the conference.

The goal of the division chief is to have the realtor help every citizen become the owner of his own home. Such an ideal realized would almost double the number of home owners in California. The campaign started this year by the state association, Chairman Platt said, is to continue from year to year until the home owner is so universally in evidence that the state will really be the "goal of the ages."

Charles B. Guthrie of Glendale is on the program to make a talk on "Investment Value of the Home."

TRACT OWNER GETS GOOD OPENING

Bert Farrar, Subdivider in Chevy Chase, Reports
Excellent Sales

Sincere appreciation of the wonderful welcome given to Chevy Chase on its opening to Glendale people only last Sunday was expressed by Bert Farrar today in quoting sales that show that more than 40 per cent of the first unit has been sold to citizens of this community in four days.

Those who have claimed that times are dull would have been astonished and confounded at the wonderful demand shown for this centrally-located Glendale gateway unit of Chevy Chase. In the first twelve hours of the sale the totals exceeded 20 per cent of the unit offered and as a result of the succeeding sales on the following three days it has been decided to open up an area containing about fifty additional lots adjoining the first unit for the immediate public sale that starts tomorrow.

Prominent Buyers
Judging by the results last Sunday when only Glendale people were invited it is prophesied that tomorrow will see at least 2,000 people from other communities visiting the property with sales that should exceed $50,000. The largest real estate advertising campaign of the year started last Friday in the four largest Los Angeles papers and the results should be most beneficial to Glendale as well as attracting many buyers to Chevy Chase.

"Glendale has lived up to its reputation as the fastest growing city in America," said Farrar today, "and we wish to thank most sincerely the many friends in Glendale who have aided us. The City Council, the Chamber of Commerce and many others have helped us in many ways and we wish to assure all of these splendid people that we appreciate the royal welcome we have received."

Among the prominent buyers of lots in the first unit are Dr. L. L. Craven, Glendale physician; George Bentley, of the Bentley Lumber Co., and Ole Hanson, former mayor of Seattle. All these three are planning to build homes here at once.

BLAST FURNACES

PITTSBURGH, March 7.—The Carnegie Steel Co. has on 49 blast furnaces this week but two have been blown out shortly for relining. Jones and Laughlin are working at about the same rate as last week.

EDITORIAL CENTRAL AVENUE

Glendale's progress from the time of the first American settlement in the early eighties has been constant, although her growth in the early days partook of the nature of the mode of transportation in use at that time. The oxcart and the horse-drawn vehicle were slow. In later years Glendale's development may be compared with the methods of travel in use today—the fast train, the automobile and the airship.

While some of this journey from a pioneer settlement to the fastest growing city in America has been uneventful, because so gradual, we have passed certain milestones that served to impress upon us that the distance we have covered has been great.

Today we have reached one of these milestones, and we pause—for a moment—to properly celebrate our progress toward the ideal of cityhood, to observe the completion of the improvement of Central avenue, which makes that street a 100-foot wide boulevard from Broadway to San Fernando road.

The importance of this improvement can scarcely be estimated, nor can those who made it possible be adequately rewarded. The widening of Central avenue represents the unselfish efforts of the property owners and others, who deserve our gratitude for their vision, their faith and their generosity. But civic effort of this kind is rarely rewarded as it deserves, except in the realization of the thing dreamed of and worked for.

A casual observer might consider the improvement of Central avenue as of consequence to that street alone, but no section can take a step forward without advancing the entire city.

So, in a way, tonight's celebration will be a test of Glendale's public spirit—a demonstration of our ability as a city to grasp the truth that what promotes the interest of one street or section is of value to the city as a whole; that stimulation of circulation in any member naturally affects the entire body.

All of Glendale will profit by what has been accomplished by the progressive people of Central avenue, who have taxed themselves and who have undergone inconvenience and discomfort in order that, from chaos and confusion might emerge this beautiful, wide, satin-smooth boulevard, a factor of tremendous import in our traffic system, an attraction and a convenience to motorists, and a notice to all that Glendale is a progressive city.

We can show our appreciation of the public spirit of those who were instrumental in bringing about this improvement by responding as a city tonight to the hospitality they so generously and heartily proffer, and by entering enthusiastically into the carnival spirit of the celebration.

Three cheers for Central avenue!

To Kill Heirs

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—Police investigation into the alleged plot to kill Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Hotaling, prominent in San Francisco social circles and part heirs to the fortune of A. P. Hotaling, millionaire distiller, came to a full stop today.

This action followed decision on the part of the authorities that there was not sufficient corroborating evidence to back alleged revelations made to Captain of Detectives Duncan Matheson by Ralph King, said by police to be the son of a wealthy San Francisco sugar man, that King had been requested to hire gunmen to kill the Hotalings.

SAN DIEGO TO GET SESSION OF BOARD

State Board Directors Are Called For Meeting
On April 4

A call for the board of directors of the California Real Estate association to hold its quarterly session at San Diego on Saturday, April 4 was issued this week by State President D. Richard Ainsley. Conference Called Chairman A. A. Pointer of the local board secretaries' division of the state association has called a conference for 8 a. m. breakfast at the Hotel San Diego on April 4.

Advance indications received by the state association presage an attendance of not less than 100 delegates from the various boards. There are 127 directors in the association, and more than two-thirds are in the territory south of Fresno.

Topics to be discussed will include the growth of the association whose work is becoming so widespread in its importance, that a departmentalization plan is under consideration.

Jewish Sisterhood Use General Pershing Flag

A flag used in the decoration of General Pershing's headquarters in France, was used yesterday for the flag salute at the meeting of the Jewish Sisterhood at the home of Mrs. H. H. Harris, 1144 North Brand boulevard. The flag is owned by the Harris family. Miss Eva Daniels, president, directed a business session. #### Glendalians Attends Grand Opera In L. A.

Mrs. Mattison Boyd Jones, founder and president of Glendale Music club has been one of the many Glendalians enjoying the opera season in Los Angeles. At the presentation of "Lucia" the other night Mrs. Jones talked with the local manager of the San Carlo Opera Co. and learned many interesting facts concerning the artists appearing. She states that the chorus of the company has been organized twenty-four years. The prominent artists taking part in the operas are members of the Metropolitan Opera Co. and appear as guest artists, thus enabling the comparatively low price for tickets to be made.

When the opera "Aida" was broadcast last week from a Los Angeles station, over $1100 was lost on seat sales at the opera-house. Mrs. Jones states that she learned that when this loss was announced over the radio, "listeners-in" immediately made up the amount by voluntarily sending in contributions from a quarter up in appreciation of the presentation of the opera.

National Secretary Nelson will also attend the Fresno convention, and an invitation has been extended to the national counsel, General Nathan MacChesney of Chicago. The latter has been counsel for the realtors since their national organization in 1908.

SCHOOLHOUSE TO SET NEW RECORDS

Present Year to Witness Millions Expended In Educational Work

BEDFORD, Ind., March 7.—The little old red school house is drifting off into obscurity. Like the hickory stick of the Three-R's days it is becoming but a ghost of the dim past.

"Modern progress," reports the Indiana Limestone Quarriers' association, "is sweeping before it the flimsy shells that once housed armies of tiny Americans. These claptrap structures, cold, unsanitary and at best poor fire risks, are rapidly being replaced by sturdy modern buildings. A survey just completed shows that during the year 1924 more than $225,000,000 was expended in replacing antiquated school buildings."

Plans that have been adopted and contracts already awarded indicate that the present year will show a still greater volume of school building construction. Beauty in architecture is being combined with utilization. Community interest and civic pride are in a measure responsible for the stride toward better school buildings. More and more schools are becoming community centers as well as temples of wisdom. Space for assemblies and recreation purposes are now almost a first consideration.

"Waste of space was a characteristic of many old school buildings. By judicious architecture, it has been estimated, $50,000,000 could be saved, the chief economies being in the reduction of waste space on stairs and corridors and the increase in usable area."

"The future will see finer school buildings with better facilities and at a lower cost to the taxpayer."

FINE SHOWING IN PAST MONTH MADE IN PERMIT TOTALS

Glendale Ranks Next to Los Angeles, Long Beach and San Diego; Stands Ahead of Mark Set by Pasadena

Here's something to be broadcast: Glendale was FOURTH in building in the Pacific southwest for the month of February!

Los Angeles, Long Beach and San Diego were the only cities exceeding Glendale in the total of building permits the past month!

Eliminating Los Angeles, Glendale was THIRD among the cities of the Pacific southwest in building for February!

February building operations in the Pacific southwest reflect the slowing up of activities in the smaller cities as well as the short month. When the post-war building boom set in the smaller cities were the last to pick up momentum and likewise when the reaction set in were the last to be affected.

Forty-three cities, including Los Angeles, report building permits issued during the month of February with an estimated valuation of $18,669,157, as compared with $26,441,590 for the same month a year ago. For January, 1925, 50 cities reported a total of $21,675,664.

For February, 1925, forty-two cities outside Los Angeles report building permits issued with a valuation of $7,884,244 as compared with $10,355,178 for February, last year. For January, 1925, forty-nine cities outside Los Angeles reported a total of $10,504,502.

Of the forty-three cities reporting for February, sixteen show a gain as compared with the same month a year ago. Long Beach leads the list of cities outside of Los Angeles with a total $600,000 less than for February, 1924. San Diego, with a gain of nearly $300,000, is second, Glendale third, Pasadena fourth, and Beverly Hills fifth.

Following is the list of cities reporting to Southwest Builder and Contractor for February, 1925, with totals for the month both for the present and for the past year:

Totals	$18,669,157	$26,441,590

March is usually a month of great activity in building in Los Angeles and the record for the first three days of the current month indicates that it will be no exception to the rule. The high record of the month was in March, 1923, when the total was $21,196,087. For March, 1924, the total was $17,279,758, and it is likely that the peak month of the year. A total around fifteen millions may reasonably be expected for March, 1925. Up to and including March 3, the Los Angeles building department issued 524 permits with an estimated valuation of $1,374,852 as compared with 432 permits with an estimated valuation of $1,374,852 for the first three days of February and 456 permits with an estimated valuation of $1,387,913 for the corresponding period in 1924. For the current year up to and including March 3, Los Angeles' building total was $23,542,455, as compared with $30,629,856 for the corresponding period last year.

DRAPERY CONCERN SEES PROSPERITY MORS ACCUSED IN WIFE'S SHOOTING

New Glendale Firm On South
Brand Boulevard, Is Showing Progress

Collins Drapery Co., 215 South Brand, a comparatively new concern in Glendale is already enjoying a very fine business, according to Mr. Berringer, manager of the Glendale branch.

This company is a pioneer institution in Pasadena. Mr. Berringer states that he has long considered that Glendale was in need of a first class, exclusive drapery store, and further says that the business here is being built up on the same principles as the Pasadena store, where the aim has been to give the highest quality at a fair price, combined with the best of service.

McCoy's Attorney Charges Husband With Death Of Mate

LOS ANGELES, March 7.—Albert A. Mors, husband of Mrs. Teresa Mors, shot and killed in Los Angeles last year, was directly accused of the crime in open court by George H. Shreve, defense attorney for "Kid" McCoy, on trial in Judge Crall's court for robbery and assault during a "shooting rampage" following Mrs. Mors' death.

"The jewelry you took from the Mors' shop safe was not yours before you killed Mrs. Mors, was it?" Attorney Shreve shouted dramatically.

"That's a lie—an infamous lie!" Mors shouted, rising to his feet. An effort is being made to change the law prohibiting boxing for a purse in England.

SHOWS PROGRESSE. T. Nelson, Gen. Manager Of Yard, Tells About Modern SpiritThe Riverside Lumber Yard, of which E. T. Nelson is the president and general manager, is one of the latest and liveliest additions to the business population of the Glendale district.This institution excellently exemplifies the modern spirit of the modern retail lumber business.
And no line of industry in the country has modernized more in recent years, than has this particular industry.In the old days a retail lumber yard was a place where people went to procure such lumber and materials as they had decided to use. The modern lumber yard is a place where people go for not only building materials, but for building information of every sort, building service, and building assistance.The modern retail lumberman not only can sell you the materials that you want, but he can recommend to you the proper materials that you need, and give you intelligent and skillful instruction in their use. It is the job of the modern lumberman to do the building thinking for his community. All the prospective purchaser needs is a building need.
The lumberman then advises him exactly how he may best supply that need with building materials best suited and adapted for the purpose.

Knows His Stocks

Left to his own choice, and not knowing about lumber and other materials like the professional merchant does, the buyer will very likely choose the wrong materials. But the professional lumberman knows his stocks thoroughly, knows their best uses, and furnishes the buyer not only the materials, but the directions for their proper use.It has been said that the business of the modern retail lumberman is to take his stocks of building materials and visualize themWe Will

MEN DO IT, PLEASESigns Put Up By Private Citizens Harm Glendale,
Says L. M. FisherUrging Glendale to "stop showing the newcomer a bear front in a bull town," L. M. Fisher, 520 Porter street, has addressed a communication to The Glendale
Evening News in which he suggests that all "For Sale" and "To Let" signs within the city limits be removed and that all real estate transactions be handled entirely by licensed realtors through advertising campaigns.Fisher explains that in stock exchange parlance the "bears" attempt to continually force prices down; the "bulls" to raise prices.
"As I walked through the streets of Glendale," he continued, "I noted in almost every thoroughfare the greatest number of signs
I had ever seen in any city of its size of 'To Let' and 'For Sale.' The whole city of Glendale has been honeycombed by these bearish signs. The city has enough realtors to handle all the real estate business that could possibly be placed in their hands.

City of Destiny

"I wondered why the citizens couldn't permit the realtors to transact the sale of real estate and list their homes if they desired to sell with a combination of realtors, who could, in turn, offer such places to the buying public and the homeseeker through advertising campaigns."I am very positive that Glendale will see one of the greatest real estate booms in its history if every citizen within its borders removes forthwith the bearish signs, 'To Let' and 'For Sale.'"Glendale is a city of great destiny. It should have a population of 200,000 within the next five years. It is one of the finest residential cities in the west. Its climate and its surroundings are its greatest advertisements.

Evening News President

"I have been a resident of Glendale for nearly eight months and have been, since coming here,
a subscriber and consistent reader
of The Glendale Evening News and its admirer. I have really felt that Glendale was fortunate in having published within its confines a newspaper that reflects every advantage the city possesses. The wonderful edition on New Year's day was one of the greatest pieces of newspaper work it has thus far been my pleasure to notice."Fisher came to Glendale from New York, his former residence.

CITY'S SOUTHEAST SECTION GROWING

Subdividers Point To Many Indications Of Rapid Advancement

Glendale, the fastest growing city in America, keeps on growing by leaps and bounds, not one particular section of town but all neighborhoods seem to be bitten by the growth bug. Southeast Glendale has more than kept pace with the rapid development of this city and what was brush-covered mountains is now thickly populated by the residents of Glendale Heights extension. William Hope of Hope-Hardin and Weldon, subdividers of the newly-opened Glendale Heights extension, states that the growth of this community has surpassed all expectations. Telling the story of southeastern Glendale he goes on to say:

"Just four short years ago Arthur Wilson and his wife decided to come over to Glendale from Los Angeles and buy an acre of ground on the outskirts of town where they established a turkey ranch against the judgment of their friends. They were persuaded, no doubt, by the eloquence and salesmanship of our good mayor, Spencer Robinson, to buy a section of land at what is now the corner of Palmer and Adams. Here they raised turkeys and chickens on a large scale.

Big Prospects
"Up until three years ago they experienced difficulty with the coyotes and bobcats that came down off the hills and made raids on the poultry. To prove these statements and to show the marksmanship of Mr. Wilson he has a number of furs which he has cured himself. Now all this is true and when we realize that a thriving community of several hundred fine homes, business houses and filling stations are now around this nucleus of a residence district, and that Mr. Wilson has long since divided his

Californians Aided by Park Appropriation

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Secretary of the Interior Work announced today $2,500,000 has been made available for the construction of improved roads and trails in various parks and national monuments of the country in the interior department's annual appropriation.

Of this fund, the Yosemite National park will receive $404,000; Mount Rainier National park, Washington, $235,000; Crater Lake National park, Oregon, $183,000; Sequoia National park, California, $179,000, and Lassen National park, California, $110,000.

The national park service will have direction over the expenditure of the money.

property into business and residential lots, it is truly a marvelous transformation. All those who live in southeast Glendale take a great pleasure in its growth and future and each is doing his share in beautifying his lawn, planting shrubs and trees and transforming what was once the hunting grounds for coyotes into a garden spot. People of Glendale and all Southern California are realizing more and more the beauty of these hill slopes. Whenever a panoramic view is desired the photographer comes to the top of our hills where he has an unobstructed view of Glendale, the San Fernando valley, Eagle Rock, Pasadena, Los Angeles and on clear days the Pacific ocean."

RUSSIAN FORESTS

To export to Poland "Russian forest products, furs, horsehair and medical herbs" and import into Russia Polish manufactured products, a Polish-Russian trading company has been formed under an agreement to pay the Soviet government a 10 per cent annual dividend.

BUILDING DEPUTY NAMED TO OFFICE

Loan Commissioner Names James L. Fields To Assist Him

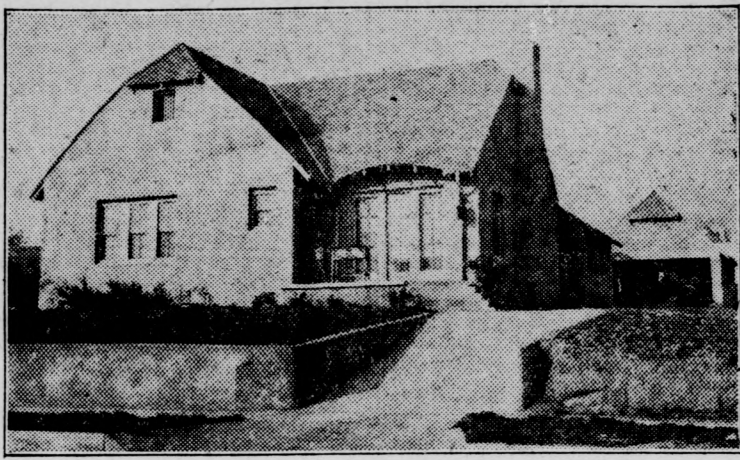

On his return from Southern California, A. E. Falch, building and loan commissioner, announced the appointment of James L. Fields as deputy. The other deputies of his office are T. M. Stensgaard and Moses Stern.

"I consider that I have one of the most efficient staff of deputies in the state," said Mr. Falch. "While in Southern California I visited a number of the building and loan associations, in Santa Barbara, Los Angeles, Ventura, Riverside and San Bernardino counties. This trip is in line with similar trips to be taken before the close of the year in order to make a personal visit to all the associations. I was greatly impressed with the splendid type of men at the head of the associations, and their high standing in the communities. None of the associations are inactive—every one of them is wide awake and forging ahead, helping to build up California. In fact, from my observations, I believe there are no agencies doing more in that direction than the building and loan associations.

"According to the reports received at my office and statements made to me by secretaries I believe that the assets of the associations in California will increase about $30,000,000 this year, making the total assets over $133,000,000. The number of associations are also increasing. There are now 153 associations licensed in California, as compared with 138 in 1921, and doubtless this number will be further augmented before the close of 1923. The future of this humanitarian building and loan movement never looked better than today."

Makes Attractive Residence

Home of E. B. SUTTON, 533 West Eighth street, built of STONE TILE, manufactured in Glendale by the CONCRETE BRICK & TILE CO., 440 South San Fernando boulevard. R. E. Johnston is president and manager of the company.

It costs less to build a good house than a poor one. One has always to take into consideration resale value and cost of upkeep. Owners and builders can combine serviceability, beauty and healthfulness, and yet maintain low initial cost by using "Stone-Tile" for exterior walls. The distinctive charm resulting from correct design is enhanced by the solid, permanent characteristics, and depth of reveal around openings, attained by the use of good masonry construction. Safeguard building investment by demanding walls that are fire and weatherproof, and by selecting a material which is of a nationally standardized quality.

"Stone-Tile" exceeds the building code requirements of the principal cities of the country by a substantial margin, as regards strength, web thickness, mortar bond and absorption. No owner or builder can afford to build with the idea in view of just getting by the building department, particularly when, by a careful comparison in costs, he is brought to the realization that the expense of good masonry is no greater than other inferior materials. The following is a partial list of the buildings now being constructed of "Stone-Tile" in Glendale and vicinity:

'RAIN DOCTOR' LOOMS IN VALLEY

Palmdale Resident Says He Has Formula To Make Moisture Fall

LOS ANGELES, March 7.—Abner V. Davis, resident of Palmdale, San Fernando valley, describes the title of "rain doctor" if his claims for a process of turning fogs to rain prove true and it is workable on a large scale.

Davis appeared before Examiner H. C. Strachan of the State Corporation commission today seeking information as to how to incorporate a stock company.

Although refusing to divulge more specific information, Davis said he had found, through several years of experimenting in a small laboratory at Palmdale, a chemical formula which, tested on steam, immediately causes the vapor particles to form rain drops.

STEEL MILLS BUSY

PITTSBURGH, March 7.—The Homestead mills are working at capacity as are the plants at Clairton. Duquesne mills are running at 90 per cent and the Edgar Thompson works at Braddock at 75 per cent. Farrell mills of the United States Steel Co. are about at capacity and the Ohio plants are running at a good rate.

IRON PROSPECTS

DULUTH, March 7.—The iron mines along the Mesabi range are preparing for an exceptionally large season this year. Improvement in the steel industry has made the outlook especially favorable and many companies already have started preparations for work as soon as the lake season opens.

BARBERS, BEAUTY PARLORS AT WAR

State Senate Bill To Make Discrimination Is Cause Of All Fuss

SACRAMENTO, March 7.—War between barbers and beauty parlor operators threatened here with indications that members of the state legislature would be caught in the war zone.

Preparations for battle were launched by representatives of the Journeymen Barbers' International union following an address by James C. Shanessy, president of the national organization, in which he declared that Senate bill No. 76, known as the "beauty parlor bill," cloaked "a conspiracy to prevent barber shops from dispensing anything but a shave and a haircut."

The bill, according to Shanessy, would force all barbers wishing to perform "facials," massages and manicures to secure a license from a state board of commissioners to be made up of hair dressers and cosmeticians, but no barbers. Such a situation, said the speaker, would be intolerable.

The barbers voted to conduct an active lobby against the bill to the efforts of the "beauty parlor brigade."

FIND LOST CITY

ST. THOMAS, Nev., March 7.—Pueblo Grande, Nevada's long lost city, believed to have been the seat of a primitive people of giant stature who ruled western America centuries before the dawn of history, is being gradually restored from the ages by excavators working under M. R. Harrington, director of the museum of the American Indian, who is heading the Heye foundation expedition into the unknown prehistoric metropolis in the muddy and virgin river valleys, near here.

COAL TRADE SLOW

CLEVELAND, March 7.—The coal industry is slow despite the fact that winter has been severe. Coal operators will meet here Friday to discuss downward revision of soft coal wage scales. The Jacksonville agreement was to extend for three years, but the industry has been in deep depression and operators hope to arrange a revision.

KIRKWOOD DENIED SEAT IN COMMONS

Laborite Followers Return Grumbling Over Action Abolishing Ally

LONDON, March 7.—Laborite members who walked from the House of Commons Thursday afternoon in protest against the suspension of David Kirkwood, Laborite member from Dumbarton, Scotland, excitedly took their seats when commons convened Friday to discuss the trade union levy bill. Kirkwood was not permitted to return. He must await abolition by commons of his suspension.

The Laborites were girded for battle today. In heated discussions of the incident last night they proposed a vote of censure for the deputy speaker who caused Kirkwood's suspension for continued interruptions of Austin Chamberlain, secretary of state for foreign affairs, who was addressing commons on British foreign policy.

Commons was sitting in committee during the address and the chair was occupied by Mr. Hope, chairman of the committee. When Kirkwood refused to leave when named Hope sent for the speaker.

LOVE SACRIFICES RELATED BY WIFE

British Tongues Wag When Divorcee Takes Stand In London Court

LONDON, March 7.—Mrs. Dorothy Dennistoun, whose story of her love sacrifices for her husband set British tongues wagging, was pale and drawn when she took the witness stand today and faced her fourth successive day of cross-examination.

Sir Edward Marshall Hall of counsel for Colonel Ian Dennistoun in the action his divorced wife brought to recover money she claimed she advanced him, questioned Mrs. Dennistoun regarding her letters to her maid. He was particularly searching regarding one which directed the maid to look in the medicine chest, get the small brass box labelled "dispatch" and send this post-haste to Paris.

Sir Edward said this letter was written at the time when Mrs. Dennistoun admitted intimacy with the Spaniard, Bolin, and also when she was supposed to be still under the protection of the late Sir John Cowans, war-time quartermaster-general of the British army.

TUJUNGA NOTES

TUJUNGA, Mar. 7.—Plans for siting small difficulties in the operation of the multiple listing system occupied a prominent place in the discussion at the last meeting of the Tujunga Valley Realty board. A resolution affecting the distribution of commissions, under the system, was adopted.

The names of J. E. Robinson, Mrs. Mark White and Miss Osgood were presented for admission as members of the home owners division of the board. A resolution in the form of a vigorous protest against the passage of Senate bill 153 proposed by Senator Sample of San Diego, was passed. The bill, proposes radical changes in the Torrens Title law which are not favored by Tujunga realtors.

Penalties for nonpayment of membership dues were also provided in another resolution passed. Announcement was made that the next two meetings of the board will be held at the Woman's clubhouse on San Ysidro street.

Plans for developing part of the Big Tujunga canyon by subdividing part of the Hansen property into cabin sites are reported in progress. Several lodges are already located in the canyon which cater to vacationist campers. The Hansen lodge is the end of the automobile road in Big Tujunga canyon, twelve miles from Tujunga.

A food sale and luncheon will be held today by the Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist Community church at the church. Gas has been installed in the kitchen for cooking purposes. The regular business meeting of the society was held Thursday.

Edward Darlington, former treasurer of the Tujunga Chamber of Commerce, and Mrs. Darlington have returned from an extended visit in the east and have taken up their residence in Pasadena to be near their daughter.

Miss Juanita Heminger, teacher of mathematics in the fourth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades of the Tujunga school, Tuesday night was given a surprise coming-of-age party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nelson, East El Centro street. The host and hostess had a number of friends gather for celebration of the anniversary, among them being: Mr. and Mrs. Knute Thorsen, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Perter J. Desjardin, Mrs. India Whetles, Miss Geneva Whetles, Miss Alta Ellsworth, Mrs. Mary Thorsen and sons, Norman and George, and daughter Thelma; Mrs. Marguerite Huntington, Mrs. Abrams, Miss Minnie Benedict and Miss Elizabeth Benedict.

DARKENED WINDOWS

By CORNELIA KANE RATHBONE

Copyright, D. Appleton &amp; Co. Serialized by Ledger Syndicate

"I didn't hear nothin' much as I can remember, I couldn't make out what they were rowin' about; I wasn't there but a minute or two before Jim whistled. Just a couple of words I heard, cross me heart, that's all. Somebody opened the door that minute, I guess, for I heard plain. Mr. Hurst shouted out—beggins' your pardon, sir, but 'damn German,' it was he shouted out. An' then I run, sir, hearin' Jim's whistle."

Nothing else could be got out of the girl, and she was dismissed sniffling.

The maid, Marie, was then sent for. Dr. Jordan remaining with Ev'ine during her absence. She arrived much excited and very vehement, with nothing to relate, but much to say. She had gone out early in the evening, as soon, indeed, as Miss Hurst had left the house, and had returned late, consequently she knew nothing of the tragedy which had taken place in her absence. But Mrs. Hurst, when she recovered consciousness, had become hysterical and had said things—but things! And she, Marie Dupin, implored the gentlemen of the police to pay no attention to the scandalous words of Denis Maher, since all the household knew he would rejoice to bring trouble to that sweet lady, Mrs. Hurst. And why? Because so jealous was he of her beloved Miss Estelle who was to him the sun, the moon, and all the little stars, when what was she in truth but a penny candle compared to her charming step-mother—a person of such real distinction that it mattered not at all if for a little moment she had condescended to become the secretary of monsieur.

"Where is Miss Hurst dining?" asked the inspector, abruptly interrupting the freshest of her words.

"With Mrs. Jack Preston, monsieur."

"What time did she leave the house?"

"Oh, quite early, monsieur, the dinner was at 7, quite informal."

Breitman looked at his watch, a ponderous golden testimonial of esteem egotistically inscribed, which he would not have failed to consult had he been faced, flanked, and canopied with clocks.

"It is after 12, she ought to be home before long," he remarked.

"But, yes," exclaimed Marie. "Miss Estelle returns usually early from chez Madame Preston."

This finished the examination of the servants. Marie returned to her mistress, relieving Dr. Jordan, who promptly rejoined the group in the library. The conquer, to whom the murder of even a Hannibal Hurst could not make up for the loss of a night's rest, smiled himself off. Denis, who had re-entered the room on the pretext of replenishing the fire, was inclined to linger, assuming that his many years of service conferred on him certain rights. When peremptorily ordered to leave, he turned on Breitman a look, half menace, half appeal, made as if to speak, then slowly shaking his head, faded like a melancholy gray shadow through the door, which closed noiselessly behind him.

Dr. Jordan looked after him thoughtfully. "Devoted but difficult," he said. "It is a question in my mind whether an old servant is a blessing or a curse, a treasure or a white elephant. Denis has so identified himself with the family that he takes the intrusion of the present Mrs. Hurst into the circle as a personal injury. Marie has told me of his absurd accusations. Of course, you pay no attention to nonsense, inspector."

"To nonsense? Of course not," returned Breitman blandly.

"Hasn't Mrs. Hurst some relation or friend who can be sent for, doctor?" Graham asked.

"Not that I know of. Her life has been completely given up to Mr. Hurst since her marriage, and of the years before she has never spoken."

What a life she must have led, thought Graham, a life given up to Hannibal Hurst! To a man rated on the street as ruthless, cruel, unscrupulous; a power to be dreaded by the strong; a friend to be distrusted; an enemy to be feared. He was almost ready to say that, even had she taken her liberation from such a yoke into her own hands, she was justified.

Inspector Breitman, his heavy hands planted on the writing table, leaned over and studied, turn by turn, the photographs of Hannibal Hurst's wife and daughter.

"You know the family, doctor; what sort of a person is Miss Hurst?" he asked.

"A very beautiful girl, as you see," the doctor replied evasively.

"Yes, but as to character, mentality—"

In addition, today's show at the Glendale theatre includes five acts of variety, put out through the Western Vaudeville Managers' association, which is part of the Orpheum circuit. The headline on this bill is "The Spirit of Buddha," a series of colorful phantasies of the Far East, with a large cast. Other numbers offered are A. Martini in his "Little Barrel of Fun"; Harry Berry, in "A Vodyl Encyclopedia"; the Victorio Trio, featuring Margaret Mantell; and Alfred Time, in "The Limit on Wheels."

YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE ANSWERED

UNCLE WIGGILY

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Copyright, 1925, By The McClure Newspaper Syndicate

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE SQUIGGLE BUGS

Once upon a time, when Uncle Wiggily was about to hop away from his hollow stump bungalow, to visit his fat friend, Mr. Twisty-tail, the gentleman pig, Nurse Jane called out of the window:

"Uncle Wiggily, will you have time to bring me back some things from the store?"

"Why, of course I'll gladly do that for you," politely answered the bumpy gentleman, with a low bow of his tall silk hat, and also of his pink, twinkling nose. "What do you want?"

"I want a loaf of bread, some butter, some sugar and salt and also a yeast cake," answered the muskrat lady housekeeper. "I think you can put everything in your pockets, but be sure and don't mix the sugar and salt."

"I'll be careful," promised the rabbit gentleman. "I'll put the sugar in one pocket and the salt in the other. Then they can't play tag with each other."

Laughing merrily, Uncle Wiggily hopped on his way. He was thinking perhaps he might have an adventure before he reached the store to buy the things for Nurse Jane, but nothing more happened than that his hat blew off with the March wind and went sailing over in the bushes. But a Blue Jay bird caught it, just as the hat was about to plop into the frog pond and Uncle Wiggily was very glad.

With his hat on his head he hopped to the store, and soon he had bought the bread, the sugar, the salt, the butter, the yeast cake and other things Nurse Jane wanted.

"Bless my horns! But your pockets are going to be very full," said Uncle Wiggily, the goat gentleman, who was working in the grocery store, temporary like, long enough to buy himself a new watch chain. "You won't have room for anything else in your pockets, Uncle Wiggily, if you put in all these groceries," said the goat.

"I shan't need any more room," spoke the bunny. "I have nothing else to carry. All I need to be careful of is not to put the salt and sugar in the same pocket."

"That's easy!" beated the goat. Soon Uncle Wiggily, with all his pockets bulging, hopped along the woodland path on his way home. He had not gone far before he heard two sad little voices crying in the bushes.

"What are we going to do?" asked one voice.

"I don't know," answered the other. "We are far from home, it is getting colder and going to snow, I fear. We shall freeze!"

Uncle Wiggily looked beneath the bush, and saw his dear friends the two Squiggle Bugs. They were shivering on a bramble branch.

"Oh, my dear Squigglers!" cried the bunny. "What is the matter?"

"We started out to look for spring flowers, that we might sip their honey," said one Squiggle Bug.

"But I guess it's too early for blossoms," said the other Squiggle Bug.

"I should say it was!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "You two should be home sitting by the warm fire."

"Our wings are so cold we can't fly home," said the Squigglers. "If only somebody would carry us!"

"I will!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "I'll put you in my pockets!"

"But alas! When he tried to do this he remembered that his pockets were filled and overflowing with groceries. There was no room left."

"Oh dear! We shall freeze!" buzzed the Squigglers.

"Not so!" shouted Uncle Wiggily. "If I have no room in my pockets for you I have plenty of room in my rubber boots. Come! A Squiggle in each boot!"

"No sooner said than done! The bunny happened to be wearing big, wide rubber boots, and soon, with a bug in each one, he was hopping toward home. "You may stay for a while in my bungalow," said the bunny.

It did not take him long to reach home, and nothing happened except that the Squiggle Bugs in his boots tickled him a little. And in the night the Puzzy Fox tried to get in, but the Squigglers were awake and tickled the Fox so that he laughed out loud and then the Police Dog came and arrested him.

So it all happened for the best, you see. And if the apple dumpling doesn't turn upside down and spill the beans in the gold fish bowl, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and his tall hat.

ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUNS MISS TARGET

Flyers Jubilant Over Tests Made At Langley Field; Mitchell Directs

By KENNETH CLARK
For International News Service.
LANGLEY FIELD, Va., March 7.—Instead of settling the acrimonious argument that has raged between the army air service and other branches of the service over the ability of anti-aircraft guns to protect American coast lines against possible air invasion, the tests conducted here have only added fuel to the flames.

From practically every point of view the demonstrations of yesterday and last night, in which anti-aircraft guns fired at targets towed across the sky by slow-moving bombers, gave supremacy for the air service.

No hits were obtained by the three-inch batteries in the daylight tests, and at night the big searchlights were unable to pick up the targets—thus supporting the contention of Brigadier General William Mitchell that ground fire is of little use against airplanes. The one direct hit on any target was made by an ordinary .30-caliber machine gun bullet.

The new heavy three-inch and the regulation army machine guns of the Fort Monroe battery, just a few miles from here, fired hundreds of rounds.

"Yes, but—" chorused the artillery officers. "If we had been shooting at the bombers instead of small canvas targets, the results would have been far different."

"That's so much bosh," retorted the airmen. "If you had shot at us all afternoon, you'd never have hit us."

The personnel of the air field here was extremely jubilant today. They felt that they not only had squelched the anti-aircraft gunners, but they had won a well-deserved victory.

During the demonstrations, pursuit planes and bombers "blew up" a target battleship on the ground, scoring almost perfect hits with each bomb, heavy and light.

"Yes, but—" said the naval officers. "Your planes would have gotten so close to us if it had been a real battleship; our own aircraft and machine guns would have kept you away."

Again the air service chorused "bunk."

"An airplane can blow out of the water any battleship ever built," repeated Mitchell, who flew around in his own plane directing the tests.

To civilian observers it seemed that the only way the three-cornered row can be settled is to have another war. The tests did not silence the talk and claims in the officers' clubs.

Housekeeping

By LAURA A. KIRKMAN

SPRING HOUSECLEANING AND REPAIRS
has "let slide" so long such as the following:
Removing Paint From Glass or Wood: How often we see paint splatters on a window pane or on wood, which was accidentally spilled during the painting of some other object! Remove these spots as follows: Paint Stains on Glass, are taken off with either kerosene, turpentine, hot vinegar or a strong solution of washing soda. Paint Stains on Wood if old and dried, must be softened, removed with a commercial paint remover, then scraped off with putty knife or rubbed off with rags; if new, however, they may be removed with kerosene or turpentine.
That Creaky Door (There is one in every home): First try applying a few drops of oil to the squeaky hinges. If this is not successful, try tightening the screws; loose hinges are often the cause of doors creaking, fitting badly and not closing properly.
The "Tired" Bureau Drawer: Hardly a family is without one! The kind of drawer that has a sliding bottom, which unexpectedly slips back and lets its contents dangle through into the drawer below. To repair it, remove it from the bureau, empty it, put glue in the grooves where the bottom-board slides in, and hammer the bottom board into its proper place. Let dry thoroughly before using.
Your Frayed Rug: Many a rug has been saved by timely mending. If you have one that has started to fray at the edges, but is otherwise in good condition, tonhole which matches the rug as closely as possible. Or if you have one which has a small hole in the middle, do not fail to darn it at once. Large holes require a piece of fabric on the under side to reinforce the darning.
The Lost Caster: There is nothing more annoying than a missing caster. Now is the time to take one of the remaining ones to a store and match it. Often it is necessary to buy an entire net set.

SUNLAND NOTES

SUNLAND, March 7.—A petition for additional street lights in Sunland has received 104 signatures and been forwarded to the proper officials, according to a report made by the Valley Center Improvement league. The league will endeavor to obtain gas service in certain parts of Sunland, where no pipes have been laid, the gas company maintaining that not a sufficient number of consumers are located in the section.

Several members of the league made speeches for and against annexation of Sunland to Tujunga at a recent meeting held at the Shaffer residence on Walnut drive. A get-together picnic under the auspices of the Sunland Chamber of Commerce, League, Women's club and the Parent-Teacher association was suggested as a means to reaching satisfactory conclusions on community problems now occupying the attention of Sunland residents.

Mrs. L. A. Wakefield was the birthday guest of honor at a meeting of the Valley Center Improvement league, which has a custom of observing each month the anniversaries of members. Refreshments were served, following the regular business session.

Chats On Beauty

By EDNA KENT FORBES

SKIN TROUBLES
Few people understand how very delicate a thing the skin is and how susceptible to changes of temperature, dirt and such outside influences; nor how it reacts instantly to every varying condition of the body. Through the thousands of little pores, leading like minute open pipes from the system, waste and poisons are drained off, acid and water and oil and other substances are sent away when they are no longer needed by the intricate mechanism of the body.

Pores that are clogged fill with germs, whether the clogging of these waste pipes comes from outside, such as being packed with powder and dust that is not properly removed, or from inside by a faulty elimination or by putting wrong things into the system. Pimples are the most ordinary form of revenge which the skin takes for abuse or neglect.

And, after a time, after months of many vicious pimples, even when the inner cause is removed, the skin goes on, re-infecting itself, until cleanliness gets the upper hand again. There is poison matter; active, live germ matter, in certain pores. This goes into other pores, embeds itself in a hair follicle, breeds, and there's a new pimple.

It is the same way, only worse, with that very unpleasant trouble, boils. Often men write me, asking what to do, men who have passed blood tests and teeth examinations, who are careful and clean, but who cannot get rid of recurring boils. When they try my treatment, they do. For mine was told me by one of the best skin specialists, who cleared that special trouble from the entire British army long before we got into the war. His way is to make

This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. # PUT the "Sure" in Insure

NAME Security Bank as the beneficiary of your life policies, in trust, for the benefit of those whom you would protect. You will be, in effect, "reinsuring" your life insurance.

Greedy hands, guided by unscrupulous minds too often snatch the proceeds of life insurance policies from the hands of widows. In the hands of the Bank as trustee, these funds should produce the maximum of income and protection.

Talk with a Security Trust Officer, at the Glendale Branch, about this important matter.

FOURTH PARTY CREATED BY RADICALS

La Follette Insurgent Bloc Expelled As Old Guard; Now 'Independents'

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Over the protests of Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, and other Republicans, a new fourth party was created in the Senate today when the La Follette insurgent bloc was formally driven out of the Republican party and assigned to committees as "Independents."

This ouster order was approved by the Republican caucus and submitted to the Senate for confirmation. At the same time the Democrats proposed their new committee assignments, in which no punishment was meted to Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana, who bolted his party to run on the La Follette third party ticket.

The four Republican insurgents—Senators La Follette of Wisconsin, Ladd of North Dakota; Brookhart of Iowa and Frazier of North Dakota—were stripped of all Republican connections, deprived of their seniority rights and barred from participation in Republican patronage.

Principal Changes
The principal changes in committee chairmanships resulted from the expulsion of La Follette and Ladd. The greatest punishment was given La Follette, who not only lost his chairmanship of the Senate manufacturers' committee, but was deprived of his seniority rights to the chairmanship of the interstate commerce committee. This important post was given over La Follette's head to Senator James E. Watson, Republican of Indiana.

Other new committee chairmen included: Couzens of Michigan, civil service; Means of Colorado, claims; Capper, Kansas, District of Columbia; Greene, Vermont, enrolled bills; Reed, Pennsylvania, expenditures in the executive departments; Fess, Ohio, library; McKinley, of Illinois, manufacturers; Norbeck, South Dakota, pensions; Moses, New Hampshire, post offices; Pepper, Pennsylvania, printing and Standard, Oregon, public lands.

WOMAN PAINTS IN POEM, GLENDALÉ

Newly Lighted Central Road Gives Inspiration To Local Bard

The addition of Central avenue tonight to the continually increasing number of well-lighted avenues and boulevards in Glendale has summoned from the pen of a bard, Ruby Culver Henry, 315 West Harvard street, the following gem that she has titled, "Glendale at Night."

"I know a city of magic delight,
Glendale, at night,
The moon sends soft, soft beams on
The city asleep;
The stars feel her lure and lowly
They sweep
Beneath skies that a loving watch
Keep;
To see all is right,
In Glendale at night.

"The potteries send their flame to
The skies;
And there Glendale lies,
And winks at the glow of the pottery
Flame.
With thousands of lights that loudly
Proclaim,
From the ends of the earth men
Have heard
And back in the light,
Of Glendale at night."

JUDGE LOWE TIES KNOT THAT BINDS

Blushing Couple Made Man And Wife By City's Police Magistrate

The tie that binds was tied yesterday afternoon in the Glendale police court by Judge Frank H. Lowe, when Miss Anna Klossner, 27, and Guinand Rydell, 23, tipped shyly, blushing into that august chamber, hand in hand.

"We want to get married," said the swain, flourishing a formidable looking marriage license, covered with big words and gold seals.

"Well, you came to the right place, young man," replied Judge Lowe, surveying the blushing couple over the top of his glasses, with that famous squint before which even the most strong-hearted have quailed. "But let me warn you, the marital ties we tie here hold fast!"

"That's what we want," they chorused, "a good tight knot." Thereupon, with the assistance of "Uncle" George Brewster, Glendale bailiff, and Mrs. Ethel Roubash, court clerk, Judge Lowe tied the Gordian knot.

WORKER INJURED IN 3-STORY FALL

Mechanic At Catholic School On Lomita Avenue Is Injured Internally

J. A. King of 3217 South San Fernando road, a workman on the Catholic school being constructed at Lomita avenue and Louise street, fell to the ground from the third story yesterday afternoon, sustaining serious injuries. He was rushed to the Glendale hospital in a Kiefer & Eyerick ambulance, where he was found to have internal injuries, together with severe lacerations and abrasions. The man is conscious today, though in pain, it was reported.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Nelson of 223 Dayton court were struck last night by a car driven by B. Unruh of 135 North Jackson street. The accident occurred at 7:30 o'clock, at Glendale and Wilson avenues, as Mr. and Mrs. Nelson were crossing the street in the rain. Both were knocked down.

Mr. Unruh took them to the Glendale hospital, where it was found that Mrs. Nelson had sustained wrenched ligaments of the left shoulder and side. Mr. Nelson received minor abrasions. In his report to police headquarters, Mr. Unruh stated he could not see them in the rain.

Mrs. Paul H. Schneider and Miss Helen Barnes of 4239 South Redondo boulevard, Los Angeles, were shaken up last night when their car skidded on San Fernando road, near Los Angeles street, crashing into the curb. Neither was seriously enough injured to require medical attention.

Des Moines Woman Has Been Teacher 58 Years

DES MOINES, Ia., March 7.—"A teacher for fifty-eight years." That is the record of Mrs. E. J. Macy, the oldest "school ma'am" in Des Moines. Although she has just celebrated her seventy-fourth birthday, Mrs. Macy is as spry as a single, twenty-three and pretty. That is the experience of Miss Mildred Barber, one of the state's first fair lawmakers. Since assuming her seat as a member of the Badger assembly, Miss Barber has received no less than a dozen proposals of marriage from various parts of the country. Thus far she has given no consideration to them, saying that she is too busy in politics to think of wedding bells. A young man from Clay Center, Kan., wrote Miss Barber:

"I am still single; but, they say, there is a chance for everybody. What do you think about it? Would you please send me one of your photos? I will send you one of mine, if you wish."

From Portland, Ore., a lonesome one wrote:

"If you do not consider it exceptionally bold on my part, may I ask you for your hand? At least let us exchange letters and become real friends."

Down in Madison, Ga., a man, who says he is "seventy-seven years young," asks Miss Barber for her picture so he can frame it. "I hear you would like to be married," writes a young would-be hubby from Rice Lake, Wis. "When would you desire to do this? I would like to get married to a nice girl like you. Name the day."

THANKS NEWS FOR HELPING BIG SHOW

President Lyman P. Clark of Motor Car Dealers Tells Appreciation

Lyman P. Clark, president of the Glendale Motor Car Dealers' association, today sent a commendation to The Glendale Evening News in which he, as head of the organization, expressed his thanks for the special auto edition issued on March 5 by this newspaper. Mr. Clark said:

"As president of the Glendale Automobile Dealers' association, I want to thank you and your employees for the wonderful co-operation which you have given in connection with this show, and we feel certain that we will continue to get that co-operation during the coming week while the show is on. We realize the tremendous amount of work in connection with putting up a special edition such as appeared yesterday and was published by your paper. We hope that it has proven profitable and you can depend on the dealers helping make it even better next year, as we anticipate making this show an annual affair."

"We want to thank you for the successful management and co-operation you have given the dealers in helping make this show a success. We have asked for nothing or even desired anything but what you people have shown every effort to help us. The special edition was a nice piece of newspaper work and we want to especially compliment you on the editorial on the front page."

"We want to again assure you that we appreciate the co-operation which you have given us."

PUBLIC NOMINEE TELLS OF POLICY

Dr. Traxler Gives Platform He Would Follow As Council Member

In a statement made to The Glendale Evening News today, Dr. Paul S. Traxler, one of those who received nominations from the public for city councilman through the columns of this newspaper, gave out the following platform on which he will seek election in the forthcoming councilmanic race:

"I believe in representation of the people and not dictation to them. The wishes of the citizen should at all times be taken into consideration, when any major problem or change of policy is presented."

"I am a staunch believer of civil service. Our city departments in all branches would be greatly improved if capable employees of the city knew that so long as they were efficient their respective positions would not be placed in jeopardy by political appointments."

Glendale Labor
"Encouragement should at all times be given to industries to locate in and adjacent to our city and provide employment to our people. Whenever possible, Glendale labor should be used for all civic improvements."

"I do not believe in a great many pre-election promises; but if elected will do my best to represent the citizens of Glendale in a fair, honest and square manner, trying to do the greatest good for the greatest number."

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GETS PROPOSALS

Wisconsin Lawmaker Only 23 Receives Invitations From Many Swains

MADISON, Wis., Mar. 7.—Being an assemblywoman has one disadvantage, especially when she is single, twenty-three and pretty. That is the experience of Miss Mildred Barber, one of the state's first fair lawmakers. Since assuming her seat as a member of the Badger assembly, Miss Barber has received no less than a dozen proposals of marriage from various parts of the country. Thus far she has given no consideration to them, saying that she is too busy in politics to think of wedding bells. A young man from Clay Center, Kan., wrote Miss Barber:

Honks Along Gasoline Row

Meeker and his ox team and covered wagon of sixty years ago is shown arriving at Spokane, while just behind, in a photograph, he is shown arriving at the same point in a modern airplane. Camp

Curry, Yosemite valley, is modeled, with the four winning cars of the last Yosemite economy run, the Overland 91, Overland 92, Oakland and Kissel.

"Man, this rain is worth more than any auto show, even this one," replied W. H. Daniel of the Dixie Motor Co. when the roof of the big tent was resounding to heavy drops as he was arranging his exhibit this morning.

Showing the actual operation of a front axle equipped with brakes, the Jellison Motor Co. has arranged an interesting exhibit of the 1925 Star series just to the left inside the main entrance. A complete Star power plant, consisting of a Continental Red Seal motor, showing the operation of the cooling system and other "inside" workings has been mounted on a pedestal where it will be in actual operation. A display of four machines has also been arranged.

C. H. Arbenz has prepared a unique display of paint jobs in a booths near the big stage at the far end of the big top. He shows old cars made new with Moco auto finish with beautiful colors and artistic striping. His shop is at 747 South San Fernando road.

The inside workings of a speedometer in operation is shown in an exhibit arranged by Psenner Brothers, automotive electricians. Other interesting features of their display include a recharging machine operating on Diamond Grid and Philco batteries; headlights, Spartan horns, Bosch magnetos and various other electrical products.

"Try to pass it on a bill, is the dare to auto show visitors by R. D. Thompson, Jewett dealer, who has a display of both Jewett and Paige cars. He has four machines on exhibit."

A group of six shining automobiles has been placed in a big display space in the center of the big tent by the Court Motor Co., Glendale Cadillac dealers. One seven-passenger sedan, a sport model touring car and a big brougham are some of the most attractive of the 1925 series.

Beside the mammoth stage that has been erected at the lower end of the auto show tent, R. E. Corrigan has arranged an attractive exhibit of Dodge Brothers automobiles. A sedan body mounted on a pedestal has been placed so that show visitors may note the beauty of design and the workmanlike manner in which it is built. Delivery trucks and passenger cars are included in the display.

Japan's Great Buddha Put Back on Throne

TOKYO, March 7.—The Daibutsu, or Great Buddha, probably the most famous image in Japan, is back on its throne.

The great earthquake of September 1, 1923, jarred the Daibutsu off the pedestal and caused much distress to the thousands of pious pilgrims who go to Kamakura to worship at the Great Buddha's shrine. Repairs were undertaken soon after the earthquake, but it has only just now been possible to restore Daibutsu to its pedestal.

The Daibutsu weighs 230,000 pounds and is more than thirty-seven feet high. Originally it stood on a single stone column, but it has been rendered more nearly earthquakeproof by placing it on three reinforced concrete columns, each two feet thick.

Principal Moyse Back From School Session

George U. Moyse, principal of the Glendale Union High school, returned yesterday afternoon from the annual convention of the National Education association, held this year at Cincinnati, Ohio, February 21 to 28.

Mr. Moyse was particularly interested in the sessions of the department of high school principals. He reported the junior high school, based on the 6-3-3 plan, is coming more and more into favor among educators throughout the country.

Woman So Big Horse Couldn't Carry Her

AUCKLAND, New Zealand, Mar. 7.—Yella Metarora, a native Maori girl, is dead as a result of her being too big to allow her to be attended to for curative treatment.

Neither France Nor England Have Ideas On Security Pact With Germany

By FRANK E. MASON
For International News Service.

PARIS, March 7.—Neither France nor England has definite ideas about the solution of the security problems, Premier Herriot and Secretary Chamberlain made known this afternoon at the conclusion of their unofficial conversations.

"We simply wished to learn the lines along which our two governments are working and renew our social relations," Premier Herriot said.

The official communique issued after their talk said that Premier Herriot and Secretary Chamberlain will meet again when Secretary Chamberlain returns from Geneva to London by way of Paris.

"Referring to the Franco-Polish alliance, Chamberlain said:

"I see no reason why war cemented friendships should not be retained."

Great Britain's unwillingness to enter into detailed discussions of Germany's Anglo-French-German security pact before two other questions have been settled was brought out clearly.

English Wishes

The questions England feels must be settled are, first, Germany's application for membership in the League of Nations and, second, the Geneva protocol.

Secretary Chamberlain made this clear to the French premier, International News Service learned from an authentic French source.

Premier Herriot lunched with Chamberlain and all members of the council of ambassadors today, together with Aristide Briand and Marshal Ferdinand Foch.

No decision has been reported on the evacuation of Cologne.

BOOTH'S COUNCIL PLAN ANNOUNCED

So. Kenwood Resident Tells
Where He Will Stand
If Elected

Frank Booth of 111 South Kenwood street, candidate for City Council, has sent the following communication to The Glendale
Evening News:

"Editor The Evening News:—
My hat is in the ring for municipal honors at the forthcoming election for city trustee. My long residence here and owner of considerable property interests and successful business fit me for the position. My Oxford university education and war-time experience leaves me in the prime of life at 61 years young to offer my services to the taxpayers of Glendale. It's interesting to note what some of our outgoing candidates have done for our fair town.
It might interest a few to know what I have fought against and favored during my eighteen years residence here. I worked hard boosting for a Glendale railway depot.

"I opposed the raise in street car fares and also the ten-cent toll charge imposed by the telephone company, which were both granted by the Railroad commission. I opposed the opening of a commercial street from West Broadway to the old winery at Doran and San Fernando road, which was defeated. I worked hard against the purchase of the airport and Verdugo park propositions, which were defeated by a big majority at the last election
two years ago.

"Sewer Bonds. I worked hard in favor of the sewer bonds, which were carried.
I was in opposition to the last bond election for all except the fire bonds, which carried as a necessity. I was opposed to the last school bond election as I felt, as a great many others did, the expenditure and amount asked for without any specifications was too great for present needs. I have always been in favor of improvements with economy, and it will be my earnest endeavor if elected to fight against any extravagant expenditures of the taxpayers' money.

"Independent. I go in as an independent, without any strings to me, from any of the many and varied organizations without fear or favor, to do my best for those who put me there, and help towards a retrenchment, an economy schedule, as advised by our governor of the state and also our President Coolidge. I wish at this time also to thank the almost 800 voters at our last election who elected me, who cast their ballots in my favor, although I was not elected. I considered it a great victory, considering the great odds I was up against. So, as the saying goes,
'Faint Heart Never Won Fair
Lady,' I am trying again, and, if fortunate, I hope the confidence of the people will not be misplaced.

"FRANK BOOTH."

jabberwocky stunts. James Utter, president of the Christian Endeavor class at the Neighborhood church, is in charge of the affair.

creased production of lettuce and other produce at Grandby and in the Sunshine valley, New Mexico,

DEFENSE OF SOUTH MADE BY CITIZEN

Nathan Wilson Refutes News
Story On California
In Nebraska Press

Refuting a recent communication apparently from Los Angeles, published in an edition of the Lincoln State Journal at Lincoln, Nebraska, in which one who signed himself "Observer," told of "great antagonism" between whites and Orientals, described real estate conditions as "unreliable" and warned prospective buyers to "beware." Nathan Wilson, 622 North Jackson street, Glendale, has addressed a letter to the editor of the Nebraska newspaper.

Wilson, who took the initiative in a spirit of public interest, in the behalf of Glendale people, is a former resident of Nebraska where he is well known. He was president of the First National bank at St. Joseph, Nebraska, for 26 years. He was twice candidate for governor of that state on the Prohibition ticket and was for thirteen years chairman of the Indian State Y. M. C. A. committee.

Wilson's Answer
Answering the article in question, Wilson said:
"Observer" says that the Oriental question looms large in California but the papers ignore it.
The world knows that the Oriental question in California was pretty well disposed of not so long ago. California papers do not pay much attention to it now, because it is something which has been settled. Southern California is today probably more truly American in the bulk of its population than any other place in the nation.

"The letter speaks further of the fact that small oranges are cheap, but they are the rejected ones and have to be bought with care." The small oranges are the ones which ripen on the trees as distinguished from those which are picked early to be shipped to the east. You can buy a bag of these juicy, sweet oranges in almost any Southern California town for 10 cents.

Spanish Influence
"It is true that the Spanish influence is still strong throughout Southern California. It is the Spanish influence in architecture which is one of the delights of California cities and small towns.
California is not Heaven, however,
and sensible people do not think or speak of it as such. It is a place, however, where capable, hard-working, ambitious Americans can find plenty of opportunities, and, at the same time, can live the year around without the discomforts of extreme heat or cold which are found in most other localities."

Ida Curry and Mrs. O. Woodward.
Specially dances were given by Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Young of Montrose. A buffet supper was served.

Members of the ways and means committee of the La Crescenta valley Woman's club were the guests of Mrs. C. E. Culbertson at luncheon. Plans for the St. Patrick's tea to be given at the home of Mrs. C. E. Culbertson were completed by the committee present including Mrs. Charles Turck, Mrs.
F. L. Sullivan, chairman of the committee; Mesdames A. W.
Brown, Milford Brooks, Louise Erwin, Anna Aiken, Rinette Sitman, F. S. Card and Miss Mathilde Moisan.

Bishop H. Johnson of the Episcopal diocese of Los Angeles will be present at the new church of St. Luke's of the Mountains on Sunday morning when he will confirm a class of seven girls. Members of the guild of St. Luke's will assist the altar committee in preparing white and purple iris for the decorations. Mrs. A. W.
Brown will be in charge of the decorating. The service will be at 11 o'clock. There also will be two or three baptisms, the bishop will be assisted by Canon Remison of Eagle Rock. At the regular meeting of the guild held Thursday afternoon it was decided the guild give the same sum towards the bishop's portrait as the Sunday school children had contributed. The cost of the portrait, which is to be done by Seymour Thomas of La Crescenta is being raised by the voluntary contributions of the guilds, Sunday school
